

Dear Exhibitor:

With the summer of 2019 fast approaching its end, it's time to start thinking about forming the IMS2020 technical program.

Proposal submission deadline for Workshops and Short Courses, Focus and Special Sessions, Panel and Rump Sessions are due Wednesday, 25 September 2019!

Topics being considered for these areas include, but are not limited to, next-generation wireless systems (5G and beyond), emerging RF/microwave applications, latest technologies for RF/microwave measurements, and advances in RFIC technology. Please consult <https://ims-ieee.org> for a more detailed list of desired topics and instructions on how to prepare a proposal. Proposals must be received by 25 September 2019.

MicroApps and Industry Workshops Submission Deadline Date: Thursday, 5 December 2019!

In addition to Workshops and Short Courses, Focus and Special Sessions, Panel and Rump Sessions, IMS offers two ways for exhibitors to present practical "nuts and bolts" solutions to attendees at no charge. The MicroApps (Microwave Applications) presentations and the Industry Workshops are designed to be opportunities for exhibiting companies to make presentations to attendees in theater and meeting room's settings. This is an opportunity to educate your existing and potential customers and raise your visibility at IMS. Submission is simple so act now since the Submissions must be received by 5 December 2019

Industry Workshops provide IMS exhibitors a unique opportunity to present in-depth technical topics, via two-hour sessions, in a meeting room off the exhibit floor, free of charge. IMS2020 exhibitors are invited to submit abstracts for Industry Workshops describing state-of-the-art products and processes of interest to the microwave community. Abstract submission will be considered for oral presentation, as well as electronic distribution, to IMS attendees.

Exhibitors are also encouraged to submit proposals for 15-minute technical presentations in the Microwave Applications (MicroApps) Theater on the exhibit floor. The deadline to submit abstracts for the Industry Workshops and MicroApps Presentations is 5 December 2019.

For additional information and to view the Call for Participation refer to the About MicroApps and Industry Workshops tab available on the IMS website.

We look forward to working with you on this exciting event. Please contact exhibits@mpassociates.com with any questions.
